

Historic inauguration celebrated at the library

The Merry Room at the Duxbury Free Library was packed on Tuesday morning, as people gathered to watch the inauguration of Barack Obama as the 44th President of the United States.

Barack Obama's image was projected onto a huge screen at the library Tuesday.

The crowd watched with rapt attention to Obama's speech.